He ended saying: “It is a special blessing from God that I meet a distinguished spiritual leader of the Church of Love and sacrifice. It is this and only this aim that we need to heal all of us who believe in the great and powerful God, giving ourselves to Him, in order to become implements of His peaceful will in the service of our fellow man”.

His beatitude then showed the Sheik around the Patriarchal Mansion , as well as the Patriarchal Library and then hosted an official lunch in honour of his guest in the Great Patriarchal Refectory.
