In his ordination speech the Elected Bishop of Bukoba starting with the psalm verse “Thy mercy O Lord, shall follow me all the days of my life”, he sketched the journey of his life to this day.

His Beatitude Theodoros, the Pope and Patriarch expressed his joy for today’s ordination, and the common bonds with the Elected one. The Rizarios Ecclesiastical School was their mutual nourisher. When His Beatitude was graduating in 1974,

Fr Chrysostomos was just entering it. He went on to express his respect for the late Blessed Metropolitan Augustine of Florina and his contribution to the Church. He also mentioned his particular love for Tanzania and Bukoba.

"I have a special love for the beautiful Tanzania which I have visited four times and the most beautiful Bukoba which I have also visited four times.

I once asked His Beatitude the Archbishop of Albania, who served the mission in the Diocese of Irenopolis from 1982-1991 during difficult years: – If you wanted to go back to Africa, where would you go? Then he answered me nostalgically: – To Bukoba.

So beautiful is the green Bukoba next to Lake Victoria!

And if Bukoba is beautiful, so much more beautiful are the people of Bukoba".

His Beatitude remembered his recent visit to Bukoba in October 2021.

"My joy and appreciation for Fr. Chrysostomos has multiplied after my visit to Bukoba. "Such a reception has never occurred ever in the 17 years of my Patriarchate anywhere".

After the service, a reception was offered at the hall of the Monastery and a meal at the Hellenic Naval Club of Alexandria for everyone.
